HIGHWAY SAFETY QUIZ
Q What is the safe and legal following distance between motor vehicles traveling on the highway?
A According to the Code of Virginia motorists must allow a "reasonable and prudent distance" between vehicles. The exact distance depends upon vehicle speed, size, road and weather conditions. The National Safety Council advises drivers to allow at least one car length for every 10 miles of speed, more in adverse weather or road conditions. Staying two seconds behind the car in front of you also will give you the correct following distance no matter what your speed. It works like this: Watch the vehicle ahead pass some definite point on the highway, such as a sign or pole, and count to yourself "one thousand and one, one thousand and two" (a two second period). If you reach that same spot before you finish those words, you are following too closely. Also, drivers of trucks and buses are not allowed to follow another vehicle closer than 200 feet when outside of cities or towns.

Virginia GI Home Loan Business Continues to Grow

Interest in GI home loans continues to grow in Virginia, keeping step with a nationwide trend.

The Roanoke VA Regional Office reports that 1400 Virginians applied for GI home loans in September, pushing the office's total number of applications to 13,575 for fiscal year 1977. September requests were 28% higher than a year ago, reflecting the continuing popularity of the loan guaranty program available to most veterans with service since September 16, 1940.

Home loan appraisal requests received by the Roanoke Regional Office in September totaled 1,845, an increase of 15% over a year ago. The regional office received 20,727 appraisal requests during fiscal year 1977. Over 712,000 requests were made nationally during that period.

The GI home loan program was established in 1944 for veterans with other than dishonorable discharges. Service consisting only of "active duty for training" does not qualify individuals for home loan guaranty. The VA home loan guaranty program helps a veteran finance the purchase of a reasonably priced home at a favorable rate of interest and with little or no downpayment. It encourages private lending institutions to finance a large portion of the purchase price than they otherwise would without the VA guaranteeing part of the loan.

The VA also will guarantee loans to alter, improve, refinance, or repair a home if the veteran or service member certifies he occupies the property as his home.

Complete information on GI home loans can be obtained from any veterans' service officer or by calling the Roanoke Regional Office's toll-free number 1-800-542-5826.

PROTECTING YOURSELF AGAINST LOSS TIPS TO HELP YOU

This information has been supplied by experts at The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, the national professional society whose members have earned the CPCU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. I guess my nephew isn't as crazy as I thought he was. My sister tells me his comic book collection is now worth over $3,000. I was wondering, is something like that covered under her homeowners insurance policy?

A. Yes, but only for loss by those perils named in the policy. Also, there could be some question in establishing the actual value after a loss and whether or not the comic books have actually been destroyed. These comic books should be insured under a "personal articles floater" endorsement which may be added to the homeowners policy. This not only provides broader coverage but establishes the value before a loss occurs.

Anyone wishing to find out how they may earn the CPCU designation can write for information to: The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, Kahler Hall, Providence Rd., CB #9, Malvern, Pa. 19355.

Hearty Answer To A Dinner Problem

Getting dinner in a hurry is no trick if you can afford steak, chops and/or hired help; but getting dinner in a hurry on a budget is something else. Corned Beef and Cabbage with Rice is ready in 30 minutes. Buy cooked corned beef, cut into thin slices. Then combine it with cabbage wedges, Minute rice and condensed onion soup for a flavorful one-skillet meal.

CORNED BEEF AND CABBAGE DINNER WITH RICE
1 can (10-1/2 oz.) condensed onion soup
1/2 medium cabbage, cut in wedges
1 pound sliced cooked corned beef
1/2 cup water
1-1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-1/3 cups packaged enriched pre-cooked rice

Bring onion soup to a boil in skillet. Add cabbage and corned beef. Cover and cook over medium heat 8 to 10 minutes, or until cabbage is tender. Remove cabbage and corned beef from skillet and place on platter; keep warm. Add water, mustard and salt to mixture in skillet; bring to a full boil. Stir in rice. Cover; remove from heat. Let stand 5 minutes, or until all liquid is absorbed. Spoon rice on platter with corned beef and cabbage. Makes about 2-2/3 cups rice mixture or 4 servings.
